EDUCATIONAL EXTRAS

As a Teaching Tool

The Gold Rush Experience is a teaching mechanism that can be applied at any stage during your unit of work.

As the orientating phase – your students arrive at the goldfields with little understanding of this period of Australian history. Gold Rush helps the children to learn much of this knowledge by 'living' the life.

As the enhancing phase - your students can use knowledge currently being learned in the classroom to effectively experience the gold rush times, and identify how it had an effect on the colony's physical, economic, cultural and social development.

As the synthesising phase – your students will feel comfortable using skills and knowledge developed in the classroom to complete the many and varied group tasks. The Gold Rush game becomes the exciting conclusion to their wonderful Australian history learning experience.

Studies of Society and Environment / Science

Listed below are some aspects that ARE incorporated into the Gold Rush day:

- Gold rushes.... population explosion, immigration, cultural differences
- Health and disease
- Chinese prospectors
- Claims, claim jumping
- "Candlelighters", tent robbers, etc.
- Characters, occupations etc.
- Tools and equipment
- Basic Mapping; Orienting to North; Cardinal points (north, south, east, west)
- Gold licences

Here are some additional aspects (not discussed in the Gold Rush program) that you might like to cover:

- Gold discovery, Hargraves and others, where?
- Transport and communications
- How we use the Earth's resources. Mining techniques throughout history. Current mining practices. Environmental issues, regeneration, toxic waste, etc.
- Iron and copper pyrite ("Fools" or "New Chums" gold)
- Study of rocks and minerals. Properties of gold and the effects it has had on societies and economies

Drama

What can help make this excursion really successful is your class' capacity to role-play or dramatise possible/probable events of the period. It would be desirable if the children had some prior experience and thus felt comfortable participating in role-plays. We organise role-play situations on the day using the props and displays. Scenarios include:

- Storekeepers selling equipment and supplies to diggers.
- Diggers exchanging gold at the Assayers' tent.
- Working a claim, using tools and equipment. (Pan, cradle and shovels, etc.)
- Troopers arresting claim jumpers, licence dodgers, etc.
- Police closing down or taking bribe money from a Sly Grog operator.

In-character

Children are encouraged to dress up as a character for the day, so should endeavour to learn about different characters and their roles on the goldfields. This could be accomplished through class discussions, teacher reading, research, etc.

Once the children have chosen a character, they could “become” those characters for pre-excursion writing activities, such as letter writing (eg. to a family member, employer, business associate, etc. telling of the intention of travelling to the goldfields).

Follow up with:

- Bushrangers....a thematic unit
- Discussions.... share the excitement of incidents and happenings, make observations and inferences, provide recommendations to Eureka Excursions P/L etc.
- Writing....poems, letters, stories, Morse code messages, obituaries, newspaper reports, reward posters, ransom notes, etc.
- Oral Language....radio interviews, television presentations, research reports, etc.
- Drama.... write and dramatise role-plays, bushranger plays, etc.
- Art....wanted posters, models of equipment etc.
- Mapping.... develop skills, create maps, orienteering, etc.
- Eureka Stockade....who, what, why, where?
